Winter Weather Policy 2018

Policy

- The Council will make all reasonable efforts to ensure that the Pavilion remains open as normal, but will not do so at the expense of the welfare of employees and the safety of visitors.
- Where it is practicable to do so and, in accordance with relevant Risk Assessments and the Winter Policy; the main entrance to the Pavilion will be salted in advance of heavy snowfall, and regularly salted and swept when the snow lies. Unless neither the Clerk, Councillors nor Handyman are due to visit in which case no gritting or clearance will take place.
- Where it is practicable to do so and, in accordance with relevant Risk Assessments and the Winter Policy; the main entrance to the Huskar Community Rooms and adjoining paths will be salted in advance of heavy snowfall, and regularly salted and swept when the snow lies. Except during days when the Huskar Community Rooms are closed to visitors.
- It is essential that all Councillors, Employees and Residents remember that they also have a responsibility to take due care in adverse weather so where there is a severe weather warning issued a notice will be posted in the villages and website/Facebook.

Introduction

One of the many problems that winter throws at us, snow is probably the most inconvenient and the Parish Council suffers as much as anyone when snow falls and it is difficult to get to work. Although the Council has no statutory obligation to clear snow from public highways, we think that our duty to the safety of our employees and residents requires us to take some basic precautions when there is snow or ice underfoot. After all, the Health and Safety at Work Act 1974 and the Occupiers Liability Acts place a responsibility upon the Council, so far as is reasonably practicable, that the means of access to its premises are maintained in a condition that is safe and without risk to either its employees or other persons.

It is a popular misconception that an occupier cannot be held liable for failing to clear snow and ice, but can be held liable once an attempt at clearance has been made and then someone is injured. The true position is that an occupier can be held liable for 'failing to act reasonably' in order to prevent accidents. So it is important to recognise that the Councillors are responsible for ensuring that the means of access to their establishment is safe for both employees and visitors and that adequate arrangements are made to ensure that the risks from snow and ice are minimised. It is recognised that it is not possible to remove every piece of snow or ice. It does however, require those responsible for premises to exercise careful judgement and prioritise de-icing and salting of key access routes.

The approved code of practice which supports the Workplace (Health, Safety and Welfare) Regulations states that "arrangements should be made to minimise risks from snow and ice. This may involve gritting, snow clearing and closure of some routes....." However, each fall of snow is different, and in some circumstances it may be better to let the snow lie whereas other times will require the snow to be cleared. So, at no stage will we guarantee to keep our property free from snow but this document outlines the actions we wish to take to balance the risks and benefits of clearance.

Method 1 - planning and authority

Salt gritting works by reducing the freezing point of water. However, on areas where there is little or no traffic the surface will remain icy for some time after salting. The spreading of salt does not mean the surface will be ice free. Bearing this in mind, a higher concentration of salt will be required to prevent ice forming on pathways and to be fully effective it must be applied in advance of the expected snowfall. It may not be possible to consult widely among Councillors when snow is imminent, so one Councillor will be given delegated power to support the Clerk and Handyman in making a decision to grit.

1.1 Appointment of delegated power

As gritting must be started in advance of snowfall the decision to grit will be made by a Councillor with delegated power (in consultation with the Clerk of the Council) to authorise the work. The power of delegation will allow them to procure such additional material and assistance as may be necessary to deal with the problems, but the power of delegation will also include a financial cap, over which they may not spend. This Councillor will be appointed at the first full Council of Autumn, along with a Deputy. They will be on standby throughout the winter and Councillor or Deputy must ensure their availability when the Met Office publishes a severe weather alert that the risk of snow is 60% or greater (Met Office yellow alert).

These alerts are published widely and may be accessed through telephone, teletext, text message, iPhone app and the Met Office website or through RSS feed. The Clerk should automatically receive the alerts, and the Appointed Councillor should have a reliable way of receiving these alerts.

1.2 Priority of clearance

The meeting will also review the priority given to the areas that will be gritted and approve a map that marks the areas for attention.

The first priority is to maintain safe access and egress for the Clerk, Handyman and any Councillors into the Pavilion during the normal functions of the Council, so the areas to be gritted are the main entrances to the Pavilion buildings, steps, and slopes. If there is no Meeting planned or it is postponed and/or the Clerk, Councillors and Handyman are advised not to visit the Pavilion, then no gritting or snow clearance is necessary.

At a lower priority and only to be gritted if required in accordance with the Risk Assessments are the entrance to the Huskar Community Rooms and adjoining pathways.

The Car Park next to the Huskar Community Rooms will not be cleared of snow or gritted and users enter the car park at their own risk.

It is not the Council's policy to grit public highways, private properties, car parks or paths through the Woodlands or access to sporting facilities. It is unlikely that anyone would want to access the allotments in these circumstances, but even if requested, the approaches will not be gritted as the salt will leach into the ground and may damage overwintering crops. For the same reason, paths through grassed areas will not be gritted.

1.3 Maintenance of salt stock

The same meeting will also authorise procurement of sufficient grit to start the winter with a stockholding of one tonne in 25kg weatherproof bags and will allocate a budget for the procurement of an additional two tonnes of grit to be called-off if required. The Clerk will identify a reliable source of grit from which such purchases may be made, and this will be noted. Within the two tonne limit, additional grit may be purchased by the Appointed Councillor or Clerk. Bearing in mind that grit is often in short supply when most needed, so the Council's stock is for the Council's use only. In exceptional circumstances and with the express permission of the Appointed Councillor in consultation with the Clerk of the Council, it may be applied sparingly to non-Council land, but it is not for distribution to residents or for general use. The meeting will also confirm that sufficient equipment is available for snow clearance and grit spreading.

Method 2 - gritting

2.1 The decision to grit

The Met Office issues severe weather alerts up to 72 hours in advance of an expected snowfall and these are updated twice daily. The Clerk's computer receives these alerts automatically through RSS feed, and the information is widely available through other channels. When the Met Office has issued an amber or red alert for the region that states there is an 80% or greater chance of snow in the next working day, the Appointed Councillor and the Clerk of the Council will agree if it will be necessary to ask for volunteers to grit. In making this decision the things to bear in mind are –

1. Expected severity of the weather,
2. The predicted length of the freeze
3. Usage of the Pavilion and HCR
4. The availability of grit
5. The likelihood of getting more if required.
6. The availability of volunteers.

After considering these factors, the gritting and clearance programme will be agreed.

2.2 Method of gritting

The grit will be applied at 250g/m<sup>2</sup> (about a quarter shovelful) when applied by hand. Note – the inaccuracy of spreading by hand will require a greater quantity of salt to compensate for poor coverage obtained by this method as opposed to using mechanical devices.

Once the initial gritting has been done, further snow clearance depends on the availability of volunteers or handyman. If inclement weather prevents them getting to work, there is little to be done, but assuming they arrive, they will be available for snow clearance as directed by the Clerk of the Council in consultation with the Appointed Councillor.

2.3 Where to Grit

The autumn meeting will approve a map marking-out the areas for gritting which will be available for the Clerk and Appointed Councillor to direct the work of initial gritting, repeat gritting and snow clearance.

Finally

The presence of snow and ice presents health and safety risks, as the potential for slips, trips and falls increases significantly. It is important all persons on Council property adhere to common sense protocols such as:

Walk, don't run.

Wear footwear with a non-slip sole.

Try where possible to leave hands free to aid balance and or in the event of a fall you will be better able to minimise the effects of a slip, trip or fall.

Allow more time for your journey.

Be mindful of slipping while walking, using ramps and steps.

If driving be mindful of skidding when leaving car parks as they are not gritted.

The above notice will be displayed in the villages and via the Council website/Facebook page where a severe weather warning is issued by the Met Office.

In short, gritting may help, but it is no substitute for care and preparedness on the part of the individual.
